

Article Overview

4-core fiber optic cables in Argentina are available from multiple suppliers, with pricing dependent on quantity, specifications, and supplier; quotations can be requested from distributors like Mouser, ExportHub, and ISPMart.

Product Overview

A typical 4-core FTTH single-mode optical fiber cable features an outer diameter of 5.8 mm, reinforced with Fiber Reinforced Plastic (FRP) and yarn for durability, suitable for both indoor and outdoor installations. These cables are designed for high-speed data transmission, ideal for telecommunications, internet connectivity, and CATV applications. Single-mode fibers allow light signals to travel directly through the core, ensuring minimal signal loss and high efficiency for long-distance communication .

Suppliers and Sourcing in Argentina

- o Mouser Argentina offers a range of fiber optic cables with inventory, datasheets, and pricing based on order quantity. Prices are typically filtered per unit depending on the volume purchased .
- o ExportHub lists Argentine importers of 4-core fiber optic cables, allowing businesses to request custom quotations from multiple suppliers to compare pricing and delivery options .
- o ISPMart provides detailed specifications for 4-core FTTH single-mode cables, which can be sourced internationally and shipped to Argentina .

Market Context

The Argentina fiber optic components market is growing rapidly, projected to reach over USD 1.17 billion by 2035, driven by increasing internet penetration, government infrastructure projects, and demand for high-speed connectivity in urban areas . Key suppliers include both local distributors and international brands such as Corning, CommScope, Furukawa Electric, and Prysmian Group . This growth indicates competitive pricing and multiple sourcing options for 4-core fiber optic cables.

Pricing Guidance

Exact prices in ARS vary depending on:

- o Cable type (single-mode vs multimode)
- o Quantity ordered
- o Supplier and shipping costs
