

Article Overview

Cable tray support arms in Nauru typically range from USD 20 to USD 100 per unit, depending on type, material, and supplier.

Overview

Cable tray support arms are essential for securely mounting cable trays in industrial and commercial installations. They come in various types, including cantilever support arms, wall-mounted brackets, and heavy-duty welded arms. The price depends on factors such as material (galvanized steel, stainless steel), load capacity, and length .

Price Range

- o Heavy-duty cantilever support arms (e.g., 410mm, hot-dip galvanized) are typically priced around USD 50-100 per unit when purchased from international suppliers .
- o Standard wall-mounted or medium-duty support brackets can cost USD 20-50 per unit, depending on specifications and quantity .
- o Bulk orders or OEM sourcing from manufacturers like IPOS Steel in Nauru may offer custom pricing, which can be lower per unit for large quantities .

Sourcing Options

- o Local Manufacturer: IPOS Steel in Nauru produces standard and wire mesh cable trays along with mechanical support systems. Contacting them directly is recommended for exact pricing, lead times, and shipping .
- o International Suppliers: Companies like Tameson (UK) and Indian suppliers listed on TradeIndia or IndiaMart offer global shipping for cable tray support arms .
- o Online Retailers: RS Components and similar distributors provide ready-to-ship cable tray accessories, including hangers and brackets, with specifications for industrial use .

Recommendations

- o Request a quote from IPOS Steel for Nauru-specific pricing and availability.
- o Compare international suppliers if local stock is limited, considering shipping costs and import duties.
- o Specify load requirements and material type to ensure the support arm meets safety and durability standards. By contacting suppliers directly, you can obtain the most accurate and up-to-date pricing for cable tray support arms in Nauru.
