

Price quotes from Australian electrical distribution box manufacturers

Article Overview

You can obtain competitive price quotes for electrical distribution boxes in Australia from suppliers like NAW Controls, AGM Electrical, and via platforms such as IndustrySearch for personalized quotes.

Key Suppliers and Options

NAW Controls offers a wide range of distribution boards from trusted brands including Eaton, Eureka, Evco, Gewiss, Phoenix Contact, and LS Electric Susol. They provide both single-phase boards for residential and small commercial use, and three-phase boards for industrial applications. Products come with IP ratings from IP40/IP42 for indoor use to IP56 for harsher conditions, ensuring durability and safety. AGM Electrical specializes in wholesale electrical supplies and provides meter boxes, panels, and surrounds at factory-direct rates. Popular products include NSW Standard Meter Boxes (600 x 600 x 260mm) and various panel sizes (600 x 600 x 100mm and 600 x 600 x 150mm). They offer high-quality, durable solutions at competitive prices, suitable for both residential and commercial installations. IndustrySearch is a platform where you can submit your requirements and receive personalized quotes from multiple Australian suppliers. It allows comparison of prices, specifications, features, and terms, and includes manufacturers like KE Brown Electrical Switchboards, Bovara, and Misal Technologies. These companies provide custom designs, low-voltage switchboards, meter panels, CT chambers, and circuit breaker distribution boards tailored to your project needs. Other Wholesalers such as Sherriff and CNW Electrical Wholesale also offer a wide range of electrical distribution products, including meter boxes and enclosures, often with competitive pricing and multiple locations across Australia for convenient supply.

How to Obtain Quotes

- o Direct Contact: Reach out to suppliers like NAW Controls or AGM Electrical via their websites to request a quote for your specific distribution board requirements.
- o Online Platforms: Use IndustrySearch to submit your specifications and receive multiple quotes from different manufacturers, allowing easy comparison.
- o Wholesale Stores: Check Sherriff or CNW Electrical for bulk pricing and availability, especially if you require multiple units or custom enclosures. By leveraging these suppliers and platforms, you can compare prices, product features, and delivery options to select the most suitable electrical distribution boxes for your project.
