

Singapore cable tray manufacturer price quote

Article Overview

Cable tray prices in Singapore vary by material, size, and duty rating, and can be obtained directly from suppliers like RS Components, AE Hub, Albert Hoo, iGemarket, and NEXE.

Key Suppliers and Options

1. RS Components Singapore Offers a wide range of cable management trays including wire mesh trays, steel trays, and more. They provide next-day delivery and allow bulk purchases, but prices are typically available upon request or through their online catalog . 2. AE Hub Supplies metallic cable trays, ladders, and trunking systems in materials such as SS304, SS316, HDG, aluminum, epoxy-coated steel, and mild steel. They offer light, medium, and heavy-duty trays with covers available on request. Pricing depends on material, size, and duty rating, and quotes can be requested directly from the supplier . 3. Albert Hoo Specializes in pre-galvanized, electro-galvanized, and mild steel cable trays. Features include boltless speed-lock couplers and on-site fabrication options. Prices are typically provided upon inquiry, especially for custom sizes or fittings . 4. iGemarket Offers a variety of PVC and metallic cable trays with accessories like trunking earth links and joint plates. They list specific dimensions and types, but for bulk or project-based pricing, a direct quote is required . 5. NEXE Provides cable trays and ladder systems with detailed specifications. Users can browse options and request a quote online, making it convenient for project planning and cost estimation .

Factors Affecting Price

- o Material: Stainless steel (SS304/SS316) is more expensive than mild steel or aluminum.
- o Duty Rating: Light-duty trays are cheaper than medium or heavy-duty trays.
- o Size and Length: Larger widths, heights, and longer lengths increase cost.
- o Coating/Finish: Epoxy-coated or galvanized trays cost more than plain steel.
- o Accessories: Covers, joints, and fittings add to the total price.

How to Obtain a Quote

- o Identify the type, material, and size of cable tray required.
- o Contact suppliers directly via their website or email to request a project-specific quote.
- o Provide details such as quantity, delivery location, and any customization needed.
- o Compare quotes from multiple suppliers to ensure competitive pricing. By reaching out to these suppliers with your project specifications, you can obtain accurate price quotes tailored to your needs in Singapore.
